Value Of Propaganda

New weapons and new methods of combat now used in the second world war, have brought many strange expressions into common usage. "Fifth column," "Moscow broad basket," "balloon barrage," and numerous other terms, unfamiliar before the present war, now appear quite naturally in the news columns of our papers and radio press bulletins.

One important weapon, however, has an old name into which events of this war have put a new and wider meaning. That word is "propaganda," and it was introduced in its newest form by the highly publicized Dr. Goebbels.

Much has appeared in the news lately of the measures taken by the Russians in this regard. They have effectively disrupted German announcements, broadcast news of German losses in Russia, and otherwise harassed the rigidly controlled air waves of the Reich. There have been stories, too, of the brilliant "V" for Victory campaign launched by the British Broadcasting Corporation. Results of this clever piece of propaganda are recorded every day in uprising and unrest in the occupied countries. Victory officials blame the unrest in France on this campaign, "propaganda," and it was introduced in its newest form by the highly publicized Dr. Goebbels.

Use Other Methods

This, however, is only one way in which the B.B.C. is fighting and defeating Dr. Goebbels, just as effectively as the Royal Air Force is sweeping the Luftwaffe out of the skies. For twenty-four hours of every day the B.B.C. broadcasts authentic news and commentaries to every corner of Europe. These programs are given in all the European languages, including the dialects of isolated districts. That they are regularly heard in the occupied countries is known beyond a shadow of doubt, and this despite very rigid Nazi rulings and severe penalties for the violation of the order. Through secret means, known only to the British Government, the B.B.C. has a very good estimate of the number of people who listen to these programs. Letters, too, reach Britain by devious ways, telling of the hope and courage these forbidden broadcasts bring. Countless numbers who are now in bondage, suffering from every form of persecution, are looking hopefully forward to the day of their deliverance from the Nazi yoke. It is to hear what they recognize as truth, that the oppressed peoples of Europe risk their very lives to listen to the British programs. It is beyond doubt that they must be greatly heartened to know that elsewhere in the world strong forces are working to bring about their release, and that they will see yet another "new order" in Europe based on freedom, and relief from all those who are now under Nazi domination.

For Final Victory

Particular effort is injected into programs which are broadcast to all classes of people in Germany, and that these programs are heard in the Reich is corroborated by no less an authority than the diminutive Dr. Goebbels himself, who goes on the air frequently to refute statements made in B.B.C. broadcasts.

In France it is commonly stated that there are three governments—Paris, Vichy and the B.B.C. And so, on this front as on many others, a strong and unrelenting attack is being made. When the final victory is reached, those who have carried on this attack will be the victors, in place with others who have taken Nazi weapons and wielding them with a deeper courage and a greater conviction than the Nazis could ever know, have brought about ultimate victory for the forces of freedom and democracy.

Story About Illinois Railroad Clerk Reads Like Fairy Tale

Richard Gray, 73, of East St. Louis, Ill., retired railroad clerk, received a $240.03 paycheck from the Illinois Central Railroad—38 years later.

Gray worked as a laborer for the railroad for fifteen years in 1903. But when he started for the paycheck to collect his money, high wages were paid him from the tracks. Four days later when he could reach the tracks the paycheck had been moved.

He attempted to collect from the railroad but had lost his claim ticket for the money and didn't get the check. Last summer after he had retired, he had an attorney write the railroad. A checkup on the books showed he never was paid and the check was drawn up.

War Makes Many Changes

Dinner At Savoy Much Simpler Than In Peace Time

Mr. Barber, in Overseas Daily Mail says: My mention of dinners reminds me that I did eat at the Savoy one week the strangest menu they have probably ever had.

Sir Stuart Macdonald, then gave a lunch to the new Governor of Bermuda, Viscount Knollys. There was an imposing list of guests, whose names were printed on one side of the menu. And on the other side, the actual menu. It consisted of three words: Macaroni, Chicken, Sweet.

That was all. A good idea, too, except perhaps to the article head waiter, who took one look at the small slip of paper and muttered to me: "I don't know why they don't just print 'Food'."

The point is, of course, that you get just as much food as you need, and far less indignation than you deserve for less, anyway, than you would have got at the Savoy's old-time menu. I looked up one user for a party given about 50 years ago by the Duke of Orleans in the same room as this week's lunch.

On that menu were 18 courses and six different wines. It was considered bad manners to miss a course in those days. . . .

The Heart Of Norway

The funeral of an R.A.P. pilot in Norway became an occasion for a demonstration of anti-German feeling as fishermen and farmers contributed to the cost of the funeral and women wept and men sang national songs.

Could Never Be Trusted

Food Sent To Europe Would Be Taken By Nazis

Here are some facts in one day's news that bear on the proposal of Mr. Hoover to feed the people of the occupied countries of Europe—his plea for the women and children who are in dire need.

Germany has been taking from France 14,000 head of cattle a month, much of the wine so essential in a land of injure water, all the beer, and the olive oil, sugar, and other services of cheese, potatoes, sugar, wheat, and fruit.

Walter Funk, Germany's economic minister (that, director of looting), was in Rome arranging with Italy for stripping the Ukraine of foodstuffs and other supplies and dividing up the spoils.

The German army in Rumania is now taking from that country its food reserves and clothing. "Wearing apparel is so scarce that the price has skyrocketed."

Still Mr. Hoover, with laudible purpose but with no relation to reality, continues to urge his plan. He tells us "safeguards." Can't really believe any could be devised that Germany would not get around or else just trample on.

Germany will not force her own supplies when Hitler proposes to seek the collaboration of Frenchmen, who would not lose her of our supplies.

If Hitler will take food away from Rumania with Rumanians are fighting the Nazis' battles, what chance is there that he would respect signs saying that the food came from the United States for which he has stated his intent.

Finally, the arrangements going forward for the looting of the Ukraine show consistently German pursues her policies. She is going to take what food she wants wherever it is found—Mittelsachsen Journal.

Museum Pieces

Articles Of Clothing Worn By Hitler Smuggled Out Of Germany

Articles of clothing "guaranteed" to have been worn by the German Führer have been smuggled out of Germany into Switzerland and Spain. The recipients have paid handsomely for the trophies.

This traffic in a notoriety's raiment is by no means new and accounts for the fact that a better number of Napoleonic relics survive in museums all over Europe.

When a dictator dies national collectors become interested in his wardrobe. While buying the stuff in advance is always a gamble, the gambler reckons that once events are casting reassuring shadows before.

Possibly they are waiting to disfigure and display that jacket which Adolf threatened to wear until the war was won—Glasgow Herald.

Ministry Of Food Shoves Goebbels United Kingdom Not Bankrupt

The British ministry of food announced it had made contracts with Argentina, Uruguay, New Zealand and Australia for 3,000,000 tons of meat. A contract with Brazil will be concluded shortly.

"This is the most effective reply to Goebbels' propaganda in South American countries that the United Kingdom is not bankrupt and cannot buy any more South American meat," a spokesman for the ministry said.

Special Prayer Used At Graduation Exercises In Ontario School

"I wish for you chaps good hunting and the best of luck," said the Rev. E. Brookes, O.B.E., told the first class of bomber pilots graduating at No. 16 Service Flying Training School, R.C.A.F., at Hagarville, Ontario.

One of the most impressive moments of the wings parade came when Flight Lieutenant J. W. Jones, O.B.E., told the first class of bomber pilots graduating at No. 16 Service Flying Training School, R.C.A.F., at Hagarville, Ontario.

Author of the prayer Flight Lieutenant Jennings read was not identified. It had been composed, apparently for the first class and may be used at all succeeding graduations.

"Cast about these pilots, Almighty God, the sure fabric of Thy spirit, that they may be gentle in their strength, steadfast in defeat and humble in victory," the prayer went. "Toughen their fibre, we beseech Thee, of their individuality, to the end that, devoting themselves wholly to their duties in Thy service, they be not lonely. Comfort those whom they leave behind, bring them back safe and full of Thy strength when Thy time of violence has passed away and we have peace."

SELECTED RECIPES

Pies: England had them first. A flaky, thick crust, topped a delicious, nourishing one-dish meal, which consisted of meat, vegetables, gravy and seasonings made up the original pie as it was served in England centuries ago. The meat or chicken pot pie of to-day is a modern version of this early entrée.

The traditional apple pie was developed many years later. The famous fruit pie, and some others, long have been looked upon as "friters" in desserts. Lemon, chocolate, custard and countless other fillings have been perfected over a period of time, until to-day we find Webster defining a pie as "an article of food consisting of a pastry crust with any of various kinds of fillings."

APPLE PIE MODERNE

6 cups corn flakes
(1½ cups fine crumbs)
½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 quart pear, sliced apples
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs. Mix with 2 tablespoons butter. Mix, press, the mixture evenly over bottom and sides of pie pan.
Fill pie shell with apples; sprinkle with ½ cup sugar mixed with cinnamon. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for ½ hour, reduce heat to 300 degrees F. and bake one hour longer, until apples are tender. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

Woman Held Up Express White Sea Finished Her Breakfast

A woman passenger who demanded the right to finish her breakfast leisurely in a dining car held up the Pennsylvania Railroad Chicago-New York express train for 15 minutes. Trainmen wanted to shift the diner to a siding in the Harrisburg yards and take on a new car. The passenger refused to budge until she had finished her bacon and eggs. Baffled but discreet, the crew waited.

What Plan Means

National Church in Germany Would Supplement Those Now Existing

The Christian Science Monitor published the abstract of an alleged Nazi plan for a national church to supplement existing churches in the Reich and "annihilate" Christianity. The Monitor said that the scheme was advanced by Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi philosopher and policy-maker, but that this did not necessarily mean it would be carried out.

The Rosenberg version of N. R. (National Reichkirche) would be formed along military lines with the sword the symbol instead of the cross and "Mein Kampf" the credo instead of the Bible. The Monitor said. All other churches or religious orders would have to leave the Reich and there would be a strict ban on any religious group holding or receiving property.

There would be no priests, clergy or nuns in the new order, the Monitor's version stated, and only Nazi party creators would have the right to speak in the churches, which would remain only in the architectural sense.

Sheep-Dogs On Payroll

Work Without Orders On Great Western Railway In Wales

The Great Western Railway (reports a correspondent) has 25 sheep-dogs on its pay-rolls in Wales at places where sheep often break through the fences, not only endangering their lives but delaying the train's progress.

The dogs, working without orders, find obscure openings in fences through which to shepherd the flock back. They learn to develop "dog sense"; if they are caught between trains on adjacent lines they lie down until both have passed.

If maintenance men, working on the line, do not heed the noise of an on-coming train the dogs bark at them and refuse to leave until the last workman is out of the way—Manchester Guardian.

Very Important Job

Man And His Sheep Protect Munitions Plant In Australia

A shepherd, with a farmer's walk, wide hat and leggings, followed his calling at a group of munitions factories on the outskirts of Melbourne. With his dog and his flock of sheep, he is an inconspicuous figure among buildings from which comes the unceasing roar of machinery grinding out the implements of death.

He and his sheep are important in the safe working of the place. Their purpose is simple—to keep down the grass.

Spaces separating buildings scattered for safety over hundreds of acres must be well grassed, for dust and grit blown into danger buildings might cause friction in a machine, explosion of a charge, death to a man or many men. And long dry grass in summer might mean a grass fire, and obvious terrible peril.

So while danger bells ring warning that no man may go n' war buildings in which machinery controlled from a distance, mix potent agents of death, the sheep grass perpetrated under.

Recruit is so far as they may bring greater loss to the enemy and victory in a cause worth more than money, the sheep are a necessity. It has been written of the nation's accounts as dead loss the instant they explode; but the peaceful sheep make profits.

Make Big Contribution

Gold Miners In Canada Are Helping With War Effort

Gold miners throughout Canada are making a vital contribution to the Canadian war effort. A force of little more than 25,000 men is producing over $200,000,000 a year. This amount of gold would fully pay for more than 8,000 Spitfires a year. In the amount of money they produce, the gold miners, the product of their work will pay for, possibly no other group of men of equal size anywhere else in the world will compare with that of the 25,000 men who are digging out the gold from the mines of Canada—Toronto Saturday Night.

Gibraltar Strengthened

Vast Sub-Surface City Can Now Face A Siege

It is reassuring to learn from the correspondent of the Times of London that Gibraltar has been strengthened greatly. For fifteen months pneumatic drills have been boring new galleries in the heart of the Rock. The correspondent describes the scene underground as still presenting a Danteque picture of toil, although the work is close to completion. A vast sub-surface city can now house the garrison in case of siege. There are available guns, ammunition, food and a water supply sufficient to enable defenders to rival the famous endurance of 1778-83, when the Rock stood siege for more than three years. There is also a well-protected fuel reserve for the airplanes participating in the defence.

Women, children and the aged have been banished from the population, which has come down from the normal 15,000 of peacetime to a fifth of that number, almost all men between the ages of 18 and 45 engaged in essential tasks. Some thousands more are admitted daily from Spanish territory for civilian duties and are eager to enter because food and even luxuries are cheaper and more plentiful there than in any town in Spain. This shifting population, however, must depart at nightfall and is admitted again only after the strictest scrutiny. There is no black-out except in the event of an air raid warning, but naval ports and batteries are fully manned day and night.

There are two probable eventualities in the changing kaleidoscope of this war which would bring Gibraltar back into the picture. One would be an Axis occupation of the Spanish peninsula, bringing about an immediate state of siege. The other would be thecession by the Vichy Government of its base in North Africa. In the latter case, with attacks coming from Oran and Casablanca, less than 20 miles away, Gibraltar would be in similar plight to the island fortress of Malta.

It is good news that the British are making ready for either eventualities—New York Times.

English Nicknames

It is a peculiar fact that the nickname for Clark in England is "Nobby," which at some time may have described a well-known man of that name who was an elegant dresser. All Millers are "Dusty," which is easily understood, as people with red hair are not called "Red" over there, but "Ginger."

By one estimate, Nazi rule has shunted 9,000,000 people to new areas, and another 10,000,000 may yet be told to move.

Foolish Talk

Insidious Forays Against Empire War Policies

There are dangerous folk who write in newspapers, in pamphlets or in books on military strategy about the folly of prolonging total war to an exhausting conclusion. They argue as if it were possible, now or in a few months' time, to make a peace with the Germans that will make the world safe from aggression, that will restore its liberties and that will establish all over the earth the freedom laid down by Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill in the Atlantic Charter. There are those who argue in this way because, quite explicitly, they are afraid of the growing power either of the United States or of Soviet Russia; and attacks have been made upon Britain's Allies at least one weekly newspaper, which would seem at first to tempt the fate which they wish the Daily Worker. These small knots of peace talkers are men with axes to grind, with warped visions and with no conception of integrity or whether they crop up in the decision of the British people to see this thing through to an end. In numbers, they are very few indeed, and in influence not very strong, but their writings, whether they appear in newspapers with a great tradition of integrity or whether they crop up in books by scholars and experts, are insidious forays against the nation's war policy, if not conscious attempts to make use of the natural questioning of ordinary men and women about the precise way in which the war will be brought to an end—The Economist.

Out Of Luck

Air Force Officer Unable To Purchase An Engagement Ring

A Royal Air Force officer walked into Birmingham Jewellers' shop one day this week, in despair. "I've been into every other shop in the city, but I can't get an engagement ring anywhere," he said. "Can you oblige me? I've got special leave to come in to-day."

He was told to go away empty-handed, for the demand for engagement and wedding rings exceeds manufacturers' production, which has fallen because of labor shortage and limitation of supplies.

In Birmingham now not only is there a steady demand for rings, but wrist watches, and even pocket watches that have been in stock for years are being snapped up. At one jeweller's a £30 watch was sold within a few minutes of its appearance in the shop window. No watches are being manufactured in this country, and, of course, no Swiss watches have been imported since the war.

Bomb Victims' Fund

Message Of Praise From Lady Reading To Canadian Red Cross

The National Executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society, relates a message of praise on behalf of the civilian victims of bombing raids in Britain which comes from Lady Reading, chairman, Women's Voluntary Service for Civil Defence, London, England, in which she says: "I have heard on all sides the most wonderful praise of the quality of the clothing which has been sent from Canada, of the way they are packed and the obvious thought put into each garment. We have been recently trying to discover which of the items you have sent have been the most useful and what repeated, but have been up against the absolutely unanimous chorus to the effect that not a single thing which has been sent from Canada has not been of the utmost use, and our workers say they would not ask for anything to be changed."

The work for the civilian bomb victims, out of all proportion to original expectations, is carried on by a separate fund, the Canadian Red Cross British Bomb Victims' Fund, of which every penny is devoted exclusively, without any administration whatever, to clothing and comforts for Britain's brave civilians. From this fund materials are bought which are then transformed by the free work of Canadians into clothing for women and children. There are 80 emergency maternity homes that look to the Canadian Red Cross for layettes for mothers and babies. There are orphanages and refuges all through Britain which the Canadian Red Cross has undertaken to supply. There are 12 women located at strategic points in every borough through which goods are shipped on a moment's notice to every needy borough in Britain. In every borough there are women at the borough clothing depots ready to distribute the goods that come from Canada. The need comes like a shadow in the night. None knows upon whose homes, upon whose child the shadow will fall. To be ready for every need is the Canadian Red Cross' recreation. Do you want to help? If you do, please send your contributions to-day, to the Saskatchewan Red Cross Headquarters, 2331 Victoria Avenue Regina, or to your local Red Cross Branch Secretary.

Treated Like Slaves

Norwegian Workers Have To Go Where Nazis Send Them

Nazi authorities in Norway have recently transferred 10,000 Norwegian workmen from their regular trades to work in mines, fisheries and other industries, says New York Times. In addition, 1,600 workers from various parts of the country have been sent to Tromsland in a harbor project there. These transfers are compulsory, and are made without regard for the workers' skills or family situation. Wages, working hours, etc., are fixed arbitrarily by the Germans.

Film Has Strange Qualities

New Photographic Material Held Secret For Military Reasons

The secret military device at Cambridge, Mass., recently makes an entirely new kind of photograph which is formed partly of light rays themselves.

The new photos can do things never done before. Two can be developed on the same piece of film, one on top of the other. Three-dimensional pictures, both stills and movies, are practicable.

This new film is a secret for military reasons. It was developed by Edwin H. Land of the Polaroid Corporation, Cambridge, recently.

The practical possibilities are tremendous. One is to make three-dimensional motion pictures which can be shown without any change in the present equipment of the theatres.

Both pictures are printed separately, imposed on a single standard film carrying the whole picture, so that any ordinary projector in any movie house can show it.

Furthermore, taking the pictures for this new film is easy and foolproof. It is done with a two-eyed camera, having two lenses about as wide apart as the human eyes. The two take separate pictures, seeing the scene just like a pair of eyes.

These photos are developed separately, and then transferred one to the other to form the new film.

The audience would have to use viewing glasses. But Mr. Land thinks these can be made so cheaply that they can be made part of the movie ticket, in the form of thin films set in cardboard.

A Desecrated Cathedral

Historic Temple In Strasbourg Now Headquarters Of Hitler Youth

The Church Times, London, England, has printed in a recent issue the horror of the people at the correspondence from Alsace showing desecration of Strasbourg Cathedral, an historic temple of the Catholic faith which has embodied the spirit of Alsace-Lorraine. The correspondent refers to the lack of enthusiasm in the German press, when "the bag with the crooked cross (swastika) was hoisted on the cathedral," and goes on to describe what has happened since it was "defamed with the cross of blood." It is now a rendezvous of the saints that adorned the sanctuary have been replaced by pagan statues, portraits of German leaders and actually a bust of Hitler himself has been enthroned on the high altar, exposed, as formerly was the Holy Sacrament, to the adoration of his followers. He closed by referring to the brave resistance of the people and quotes one of their sayings in French, which means: "You may Germanize our land but our heart, never."—St. Thomas Times Herald.

Scrap Iron And Steel

Have To Be Conserved More Especially In War Time

The National Revenue Review says: Scrap is one of the important primary materials of the iron and steel industry. In the manufacture of steel and of iron castings it replaces pig iron ton for ton while in rolling and stamping mills substantial tonnages are re-rolled and re-shaped into a variety of commercial products. More than 1.8 million tons of scrap iron and steel were used in Canadian industry in 1940, this tremendous tonnage assuming special significance in wartime from the standpoint of conservation as well as in its present form. It is vital that scrap be conserved as well as possible from the fact that it would require about 3½ million tons of iron ore, most of which must be imported, to produce this amount of new metal.

Scrap is anything of iron and steel that is the waste or by-product of manufacturing or that has been discarded on account of failure, obsolescence or other factors that have rendered it unfit for further use in its present form. It is vital that scrap be conserved as well as possible from the fact that it would require about 3½ million tons of iron ore, most of which must be imported, to produce this amount of new metal.

A Gentleman Thief

Hitler Steals Great Store By Himmler's Night Hand

Reinhard Heydrich, Himmler's right-hand man in charge of Gestapo operations, is one of the handsomest figures in the Nazi hierarchy, says the London correspondent of the O.C. Daily Mail. He is also, possibly next to his formidable chief, one of the most ruthless. Thirty-eight years of age, six-foot tall, blue-eyed, with a high complexion and fair hair, he is the accepted "pure Nordic" model. But he has a dark criminal past. He was a thug of the first water, he has been responsible for the shooting of hostages in France, Belgium, and Norway, and has now replaced the too tolerant Baron von Neurath, one-time German ambassador in London, as Gauleiter of Bohemia and Moravia, where strikes and sabotage have caused much trouble to the German overlords.

Those who know him state that never was there a more perfect example of Hamlet's comment that "a man may smile and smile and be a villain." He combines a charming manner with completely Sadistic tendencies. Hitler sees great store by him, and doubtless he will prove a ruthless ascendant in his new job.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE NOT YET BOUGHT SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

Although more and more Canadians are becoming regular investors in War Savings Certificates, and although large numbers are increasing the size of their monthly War Savings investments as a result of current no-war-savings campaigns, there is an astonishingly small number of people who are failing to grab their share of just about the best investment Canadians are offered in these unsettled days.

There are even a few people here and there who have been duped into the belief that money which they invest in War Savings Certificates may never be paid back. Somehow or other they fail to grasp the obvious fact that the whole of Canada's immense resources stand behind every certificate; that the certificate has first call on those resources; that the only threat against the cashing of War Savings Certificates is the possibility of Hitler taking over the country.

It is a pity too that most of the victims of traitors' propaganda are wage earners who never before had the opportunity to get in on an good investment. As a rule in years gone by, good money investments could only be made by citizens with some reserve capital. Never before has it been so easy for everybody to buy a good security out of his weekly income.

The smart business people of Canada of course are buying War Savings Certificates. The same insight and foresight which has enabled them to become a little better off than the average taxpayer prompts them to buy all the War Savings Certificates the government will allow them to buy. They know the interest rate is much higher than it might be, considering the tremendous security behind them and they know the certificates are tax free. That is the reason why the government will not permit an individual to buy more than $450.00 every year.

It would mean that the misinformed citizen who believes that the purchase of War Savings Certificates is a duty or constitutes a sacrifice, is missing the boat.

If all Canadians were as smart as the well-to-do persons who purchase the limit each month, there would be no need for canvassers to circulate among the people.

Instead there would be queues of purchasers lined up in front of War Savings Certificate offices.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

For at least one extension worker in this field that funds be set aside for travel and literature, that regular radio programs of study club information be organized that the college of education be required to provide courses in adult education and conduct research.

Two delegations called on the minister of public works to urge road improvements or extensions in their localities. First was composed of M.L.A. E. Low, with residents of the Vegreville district, urging construction of a highway from Vegreville-St. Paul highway to the Brazeau-Verdun bridge across the Saskatchewan river then north to link with the St. Paul-Edmonton highway. Three M.L.A.s, C.I. Sayers, Canmore; A. E. Foe, Sedgewick and William Mason, Wainwright, urged graveling of the highway from Hughenden to M. Min.

Incorporation of one new credit union during September brought to 41 the number active in the province. Interest in the movement is shown in the department of trade and industry report, which lists 20 conferences and interviews between interested parties and credit union supervisors during the month. Total assets are now set at $141,644. Since beginning of the movement, loans to members for provision or merchandising purposes have totalled $468,949.58. Not a dollar has been lost through a bad loan.

THE WORLD OF WHAT

(By H. G. L. STRANGE.)

An International wheat conference hopes to divide up the world's wheat trade during this war and after the war and to allocate certain quotas to export countries.

For my own part I do not believe that the best interests of Canadian wheat growers could be served by having their quality wheat placed on an equal basis with the lower quality produced by other countries.

In any event however, even if quotas are set, the high quality in Canadian wheat in itself alone should warrant much higher prices for this country than from others. Surely it seems then that from any point of view the high quality of Canadian wheat, should not only be maintained by our farmers, but possible improved.

Farmers, therefore, who are in doubt about the quality of their crops should find out the variety best suited for their district, and then should secure a few bushels of the very best registered or certified seed, and sow these carefully on a few of their cleanest acres of summer fallow. This will then provide seed for a larger average the next year. If every farmer would do this simple and in expensive nothing the quality of Canadian wheat would soon go up with a bound.
